

NIH Electronic Submission Validations and the 80-20 Rule

The Pareto principle, also known as the 80-20 rule, states that for many phenomena, 80% of the consequences stem from 20% of the causes. This principle certainly holds true for application errors identified by eRA Commons during the electronic submission process for grant applications. Of the 98 different errors that R01 applicants received between January 5, 2007 and March 21, 2007, the top 20 errors accounted for 84% of the total errors flagged. Errors identify items that must be corrected in order to complete the submission process and ensure applications have all the information needed for peer review, and the information is presented in a consistent way to facilitate the review process.

The Pareto principle holds true for application warnings as well. Of the 50 different warnings received by R01 applicants, the top 10 accounted for 82% of the warnings identified by the eRA Commons system. Warnings do not stop applications from completing the electronic submission process, but alert applicants to items that may be checked manually post-submission. NIH applies greater flexibility with warnings and has made continuous adjustments to the number and content of warnings since receiving the first electronic applications in 2005. Upon review of recent R01 applicant experiences, NIH has planned additional process improvements. Once these changes are implemented, over 50% of the R01 warnings experienced earlier this year will be eliminated (see warnings marked with an  in the table below).

Most Frequent R01 Electronic Submission Warnings

#	Warning	NIH Notes/Actions	# Hits
	Note: {#} indicates information is pulled from the application and placed in the message.
1.	The PD/PI position/title, {0}, listed on the SF 424 RR Cover, does not match those listed on the eRA Commons account: {1}. The grant image will display the position/title as submitted here. If the position/title on the eRA Commons account is not current, please update it in the eRA Commons by editing the appropriate employment record in the PI's Personal Profile.	After June 2007 software release, NIH will no longer give this warning. If no position/title is included in the Commons profile, NIH will populate the profile with the position/title from the application.	12810
2.	The Research Plan is limited to 25 pages. This may span 28 pages due to page breaks. If the total space occupied by text does not exceed 25 pages then no action is needed.	This message simply acknowledges that white space may have resulted when splitting the sections of the research plan and may have caused the research plan to exceed the specified page limit. Check the application in eRA Commons. If the research plan was 25 pages prior to splitting it up, then no action is needed. However, if there are more than 25 pages of solid text, the Division of Receipt and Referral may find the application non-responsive post submission and stop it from proceeding to review.	7934

3.	The name provided for Key Person {0} on the Senior/Key Person page does not match the eRA Commons account name {1}. The grant image will display the name as submitted.	After June 2007 software release, NIH will only flag a warning if both the Sr/Key person first name and last name are different when application data is compared to Commons profile information. For example, Kathy Jones vs. Kathleen Jones would pass the validation, but Kathy Jones vs. Kim Lee would not.	7583
4.	If appropriate for your organization, please supply a division for the PD/PI on the SF 424 RR Cover.	After May 2007 software release, NIH will no longer give this warning.	4427
5.	The role of 'Co-PD/PI', indicated for Senior/Key Person {0} on the Senior/Key Person page, is not used by NIH. For multiple Principal Investigators, use the PD/PI role. Otherwise, select another role.	This warning was reworded for clarity in the February 2007 software release.	3479
6.	The name provided for the PD/PI, {0}, listed on the SF 424 RR Cover, does not match the name listed on the eRA Commons account: {1}. The grant image will display the name as submitted here. For example, Kathy Jones vs. Kathleen Jones would pass the validation, but Kathy Jones vs. Kim Lee would not.	3178
7.	No degrees have been submitted for the PD/PI. If you want the degrees to be displayed on the face page of the grant image, you should include them on the PHS 398 Cover Page Supplement.	Degree information is displayed on post-submission notifications (e.g. summary statements, notice of award). It is used by internal NIH systems for review assignments and by reporting systems to track career progression of grantees.	3003
8.	The PD/PI degree: {0}, listed on the PHS 398 Cover Page, is not one of the degrees listed for the eRA Commons account: {1}. The grant image will display the degrees as submitted. 10.	The human subject assurance number entered in Other Project Information, item 1a does not match what is in the eRA Commons profile for your organization. There are rare cases where this is permissible.
